

Concrete Hopper

Concrete Hopper - This particular attachment is a self-dumping hopper that automatically activates to unload as bumper release touches the side of a dumpster. As soon as unloading is finished, the hopper returns to an upright and locked position. This particular piece of machinery even comes with a cable that allows operation from the seat of the lift truck in order to have the choice of manually dumping the hopper. There is a locking chain provided so as to lock the hopper to the fork truck. This particular product is constructed with consistent and reliable robotic welds for maximum strength. The forklift dumping hopper even has a blue powder coat finish to maintain durability.
